Scripture:

Exodus 20:3 You shall have no other gods before Me. (NKJV)

Message:

It is critical to recognize the important things and people in life. We sometimes focus on the secondary or the less important and totally miss what is relevant or essential. We make commitments to what is not necessary or true or sure and we miss the opportunity to gain much. We align ourselves with persons who can do nothing to strengthen or build us up, so we remain weak and powerless as we serve our God. We are to always try to link with who and what is important to our growth and development especially our spiritual growth.

God is extremely important to and for us. Thus we must have no other gods before Him. God is important for everything we do. To give us focus and direction; to give peace and joy; not to mention hope especially in times such as these. God is the source of our everything and the reason for our existence. With Him everything is possible and He can do so much for us once we give it over to Him. There is no other God but Almighty God and if we concentrate on Him, allowing Him to also focus on us, we will be stronger, purer and bigger as we serve Him.

Activity:

Fill in the blank space with a Vowel (A E I O U) to see what God can give to us.
