FUNCTION

November 22 – Do not kill

Scripture:

Exodus 20:13 You shall not kill. (RSV)

Message:

Life is precious. Almighty God, the creator of life made each one of us in a special and unique way. When He created each and every one of us, He gave us all different talents, gifts and skills. So even if we may look alike, or may be one family, we are all different. Mankind cannot do that, only God can do such a marvelous thing. We are not able to do what God is able to do and that indeed makes life precious. It is no wonder then we are told that we must not kill.

First of all, it is wrong to kill someone. To even think about it is not right because by thinking about it all the time, we may eventually do it. Also, if we are not God and cannot create life, why must we think of killing someone and ending their life. Some even think of killing themselves and that too is wrong. The commandment says that you shall not kill so we must not think about it much less actually do it for we did not create life, neither must we try to end a life. We thank God for life.
